Tena koutou nga matua nga whaea me nga whanau katoa

Our very sincere condolences to Aunty Gale on the recent loss of her brother. Aunty Gale and her whanau have been very much in our thoughts.

I would like to say a huge thank you to all of our parents and caregivers who supported our cross country day in such positive ways. Thank you to all those that helped on our stalls. Duncan, Chelsea, Kapene, William, Paris, Danika. Thank you to Aunty Hoki for organising all of the hangi tickets and ensuring everyone that ordered received their orders.

Thank you to all those listed below that contributed to the hangi items, monetary donations, cake stall donations, hamper donations, firewood, making stuffing, packing the hangi and putting down and lifting the hangi. What a great team of will workers that all came together to raise $3,000 for our Kura. Thank you so much. You are all amazing. I do apologise if we have left someone off our list.

Congratulations to all of our students who ran on the day. Below are placements of runners.

It was also brought to my attention by 2 parents that some students were sent the wrong way by marshals. And in one case the marshal was standing in the wrong place. We sincerely apologise for this, and have reviewed the organisation of the full day and will be making some changes for a smoother running next year.

BOT MEETING MONDAY 3RD SEPTEMBER 1.00PM

Room 1 and 2 News

Art on Friday’s for Room 1 and 2 has been focusing on koru patterns. The students are learning how to draw koru and how to use shading for effect. They worked very hard last Friday and produced some wonderful pictures.

Papi-Dave has done a wonderful job of using different shades in his picture. I love the way he has layered his koru on top of each other.

Reama has used shading in her koru and is using other different patterns to make her work more interesting.

Anahera

Phillip

I really like the way that Anahera has drawn Several different koru to use the space on her page. The way she has used different lines to colour and shade makes this a very effective piece of art.

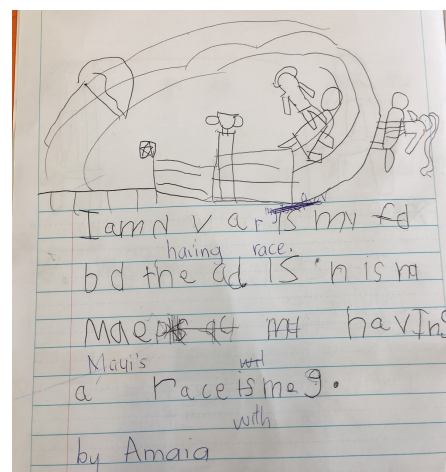

Phillip has done a great job of using the koru pattern in a range of ways. His shading is developing nicely and is beginning to give his artwork real depth

Poppy

Hone Heke

Amaia

Last week we did some video interviews of the children talking about horses and we also made a mural on the wall. This morning we told some stories about horses.

Room 3 News

Once a week Louise the Social worker in schools comes in to deliver a class on identity and self esteem. In this time we explore are past, present, and future, our likes, dislikes, and the things that define us. This time is used with korero, creative drawing, games, and times of sharing. There has been a sheet handed out to tamariki to interview whanau to show the differences in growing up, which will be brought back for sharing next week. At the end of the programme a hakari will be held and whanau are welcome to attend to see the journey their tamariki have been on.
